THE GREAT EARTHQUAKE.

In the presence of so great a disaster as has befallen the people of South Carolina, it is impossible immediately to speak collectedly or with composure. A series of earthquake shocks has been experienced over an era compassing three-fourths of the territory of the United States. The center of disturbance appears to have been at and in the vicinity of Charleston, S. C. The exterior bounds of its influence have been a line down the Mississippi to the south line of Tennessee for the southwest boundary; the Missouri for the northwest; a line from the southern point of Lake Michigan a little north of east to the Hudson somewhat above New York for the northern limit; the Atlantic coast for the east line; the north line of Florida for the south, and thence a line to the south line of Tennessee where it touches the Mississippi. The wave movement of the earthquake appears to have been northerly and southerly. The terrible destruction of life and property at Charleston, Summerville, and points in that vicinity, is detailed in our dispatches. That the people of the United States will fly to the aid of the sufferers is a matter of course. We only hope now, that in the excitement and horror of the great terror, the extent of the loss of life and damage to property has been much exaggerated. When we are told that the shocks lasted in some places for three minutes, we in California, who have felt only two or three seconds of shock, are much inclined to think that there was mis- measurement of time in the midst of the horrors of the disaster. It is a monstrous ill, and awakens every human sympathy and pitying sentiment of the human heart. Our Southern brethren are in dire distress and deepest woe. Fair cities have received injury from it which is not possible for them to recover in many years. The only hope of a more speedy rally is in the fact that the earthquake was spread over such a wide extent of country, that no one place will be felt to be much safer than another, and thus an exodus be checked which else might prostrate Charleston for a decade.

THE BULGARIAN DISPUTE.

Tritors in the South—Soia—Preparing to Receive Alexander.

(By Telegraph.)

BUCHAREST, September 1st.—The Russian Colonel, Kisicoff, has been arrested at Lompanka, and it is rumored that Kossuth is in prison.

LOSOS, September 1st.—Advice from Soia says that Karayoff and Metropolitan Clement have fled from that city. Karayoff's action during the revolution was suspicious. He allowed Alexander's partisans to be arrested and carried to prison in prison, and failed to disarm all the soldiers implicated in the conspiracy.

SOFIA, September 1st.—Colonel Muthuroff and his corps arrived here to-day and received an enthusiastic reception. The city is calm. Preparations are being made for a general assembly to be held on the 7th.

NEW YORK, September 1st.—Advice from the World says: The stock market riggers and sensational provincial correspondents have been circulating the news that the greatest war of modern times is imminent, because it is the intention of Germany to go to war with Russia, and with Turkey, to intervene in the Bulgarian troubles and fight Russia. A great war may be imminent, but the intention implied above, to Germany and Austria is concerned with the Balkans. The information from Belgrade leaves no doubt as to King Milos's desire to effect a prompt and complete reconciliation between Servia and Bulgaria.

SOFIA, September 1st.—Colonel Muthuroff has arrived at Elena, between Tzernova and Soia. His journey to Elena was marked by a series of popular ovations, similar to those reported yesterday.

answer to his name, and was given it by

JUSTICE TRIUMPHANT.

THE BLIND GODDESS SITS UPON A VILE WOMAN-BEATER.

Louis Verheyen Convicted of Beating Lilly Forrest Within an Inch of Her Life.

The case of Louis Verheyen, charged with battery committed upon a woman known as Lilly Forrest, with whom he had been living in an L-shaped bungalow, was called in the Police Court yesterday.

The defense having demanded a jury, a venire was issued on Monday, out of which the following-named citizens were chosen to try the case: Charles Young, Ben Johnson, S. Beede, E. H. Shirlard, A. Scroggins, J. M. Henderson, S. Turner, John Stein, R. Weber, J. K. McKenna, J. Kearns and
M. Stein.

City Attorney Hart briefly stated to the jury what the prosecution expected to prove in justification of the charge against Verheyen. I. S. Brown appeared as an assistant counsel for the prosecution.

Major Anderson, for the defense, called to the stand the following citizens, who stated that the woman fainted twice while being taken from her bed to the carriage as she seemed to be loss of blood. She was so weak that she could hardly assist in putting on her clothes.

Kitty Fisher identified a blood-stained dress as having belonged to Lilly Forrest, while the other citizens stated that the woman was in the carriage when she was taken to the hospital.

Miss Mary G. Spink is spending her vacation with friends in the mountains of El Dorado county.

Louis Hanecek knew Lilly Forrest and Verheyen, who had next door to her. She testified to the following facts: Verheyen was drunk on the night of the offense.

Major Anderson called to the stand the woman's husband, Frank Dillman, who stated that he had been drinking when he came home from work.

Verheyen, who was a shirtless man, was asked if he had been drinking when he came home. As soon as the witness said that he had been drinking, Verheyen
